JUNE 4, 2017 Pentecost Sunday

Lord, send out your Spirit, and renew the face of the earth.

Today we celebrate Pentecost, the day when the outpouring of the Holy Spirit transformed a group of frightened, confused disciples into a strong, dedicated community—the Church. Through the power of the Holy Spirit, they began boldly preaching the Good News to people of all languages, and making disciples in all nations, as Jesus had instructed.

CATHOLIC ANSWERS TO CATHOLIC QUESTIONS

- Q. There are some Catholics who say that the Church allows cremation. Then there are others who say that cremation was always forbidden in the Church. What should I believe?
- A. In 1963, while continuing to maintain a strong preference towards burial, the Catholic Church became more open to allowing cremation. As more and more Catholics became aware of the change in the law, there has been an increase number of cremations among Catholics.

Prior to 1997, cremations had to take place after the funeral Mass so the body could be present during the rite. Since then, the Vatican has granted permission to allow funeral Masses with the presence of the ashes.

To this day, the Catholic Church Law forbids cremation when it is chosen for reasons that are contrary to the Christian teaching. These are:

- a. Cremation is implemented for the purpose of denying the resurrection of the body.
- b. The ashes of cremated Catholics are to be preserved afterwards as a body would be preserved, either in a mausoleum or buried in a Catholic cemetery which is holy grounds.
- c. Ashes are not to be scattered.
- d. Anything that is contrary to #b above, it is forbidden by the Catholic Church. You cannot decorate your living room with the ashes/urn of the dead. Nor can you keep the ashes in your basement, buried in your yard or in the yard at the cottage, and the list goes on.
