

REFLECTIONS FOR THE YEAR OF MERCY
Thirty-third Sunday in Ordinary Time

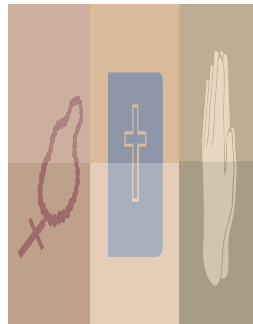

As we approach the conclusion of this Jubilee Year of Mercy, the first disciples of Jesus wonder what people in every age seem to wonder about the end of the world: "Teacher, when will that be?" (Luke 21:7). But instead of what we would like to know, Jesus tells us what we need to know. Do not worry about natural disasters, violence of individuals, human suffering. Because of the abundant mercy of God, all is grace. This will help them to bear witness to me" (21:13). The prophet Malachi promises "the sun of justice, which will bring them salvation in his wings" (Malachi 3:20) and Jesus describes how we receive the order "Get up, lift up your heads. It is about liberation"(21:28). Instead of us being concerned for ourselves and future risks, both the Gospel of Jesus and the Jubilee Year of Mercy convened by Pope Francis invite us to move past our life, proclaiming the promise of abundant mercy of God and interpreting it in living works of compassion.

33RD SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

We must not let distractions of the world's chaos and disorder dispel God's perfect plan of salvation.

Today's readings show us that even in the midst of a world gone mad, we are still empowered to bring God's order to any situation. Whether it is by our behavior, our words or our presence, believers have been given the power to share God's message no matter where we find ourselves.
